Julia Kertrude Smith

Old information

- Source of Information: Dorothy Leggett and Ethel Smith Strickland.
1. George and Julia West Smith were the parents of Forrest Smith who died in 1918.
  2. Allie Pritchett was sister of Forrest Smith information from Ethel Smith Strickland via Leggett's sister.
Mrs. Strickland is the daughter of Forrest Smith. She is 70-80 years of age.
  3. Daniel Y. Smith was a brother to George Smith — not Forrest Smith.
Daniel Y. Smith was father of Dunk and Hamp Smith — not a brother of Forrest.

I couldn't quite straighten this out. Forrest must be from another family. However, both Molly Howell and Mrs. Strickland talk about him.

Smith - Trest Family
June 1974

Source of Information: Molly Smith Howell. Julia Smith Eubanks, Mama's grandmother, and Daniel Z., Molly's grandfather, were brother and sister. Molly and Mama are third cousins by blood and first cousins by Molly's marriage to Hugh Mason who died shortly after his marriage to Molly.

Note: Jean, Mrs. Molly Smith Mason Howell is Ann Howell's Mother-in-law.

Note: Jean, I have copied my notes taken in 1974 verbatim. It was my first attempt to learn something about my great-grandmother, Julia Smith Euhanks. It's all traditional and as you note contradictory. I never did get to visit Mrs. Delia and Mrs. Rachel.
They are now in Nursing Homes - one in Van Cleave. As late as last winter I contacted their nephew's wife who lives here to try to get in touch with them.
She promised to call me if they returned here for a visit, but I never heard from her. The lady had no interest in genealogy.
Her philosophy was "let a dead dog lay."
That was her spoken expression, and I hesitated to call again. However, she was no blood relation. I understand that the two older ladies are refined educated ladies. I still wish I could meet and talk with them.

I am sending the above as written in '74.
With the information you have, maybe you can separate the correct from the incorrect.

Since 1974, I have collected a little more information. My family always told me that Grandma Smith's name was Julia Catherine and that my Aunt Kate was named Julia Catherine for her. I wondered why her tomb was marked Julia Eubanks. I have learned that her name was Julia Gertrude. I have another Aunt named Frankie Gertrude. Two of Mama's sisters were named for their Grandmother. A cousin was named George P.

From Thomas Jefferson Eubank's Bible:
Julia Smith Eubanks married March 6, 1866, at the close of the Civil War.

*My Home Town (The Oldias story)
by Wallace Davis
Smith*

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES

J. T. farmed extensively, and in the early days of Bedias he hauled freight from Navasota and Huntsville. He was paid at the rate of fifty cents to a dollar and a quarter per hundred pounds. This business, known as "wagoning," was eliminated by the railroad in 1903. J. T. was also Tax Collector of Grimes County from 1904 to 1909. He then returned to the New Bedias (present site) and again engaged in the mercantile business, this time with J. C. Griffith as partner. He became cashier of the Citizens' State Bank in 1914 and continued in this capacity until his death, August 5, 1930.

Children: Minnie, Goree, Lee, Ethel.

JOHN SIMES

John Simes came to Texas from Louisiana with his father, Ignatius, in 1834. He was five years old at the time. They settled near Bedias on the homestead where John Simes later lived until his death.

The following year the family retreated into Louisiana before the Mexican invasion by Santa Anna and remained in Louisiana for six years. In 1841 young John returned to his former home and grew to manhood there.

He was married three times. His first marriage was to a Miss Ariola; his second to a Miss Campbell, who bore him two children, Tom and Allie. His third wife was Mattie Yarborough; and of this union five children were born: Fannie, Robert, Emma, Sina, and Jim.

When young John first married and started out for himself, he was a pioneer in the area for he built his home of hewn logs—he was forty miles from the nearest grist mill, which was located in the vicinity of Huntsville—and even nine miles from his nearest neighbor. Thus John Simes during his lifetime watched the development of a wild unsettled territory into an area of cultivated farms and ranches and the fields where he used to chase deer and wild turkey become crisscrossed by rails and wagon traffic.

He died April 14, 1904.

WHIT SMITH

Whit Smith was born in Anderson County, August 7, 1857. He moved with his parents, Sanford and Annie Corder Smith, and a sister and brother, to the old Union Hill community in 1866. After a few years there, they moved to Pankey where Whit's father purchased a gin and a farm. Whit had few school advantages and community, September 27, 1887, the son of Samuel and Annie Leslie Smith. The Smith family came to Texas in 1843 when Samuel, who was born in Mississippi, was two years old. At seventeen he joined the Confederate Army as a member of Company E of the Robert E. Lee Regiment, 11th Texas Infantry.

The family moved eight miles south of Bedias when Will was a young boy. He attended school at Union Hill, Singleton, and Weatherford. At an early age he entered the cattle business. He learned many details of the business from his father—a "Trail Driver" at the time people had to drive their cattle as far as Saint Louis to market. When Will began his cattle business, the Grimes County area had progressed from Texas Longhorns to a better strain of cattle. After running common cattle for many years, Will turned to the Brahman breed.

Will Smith was married October 12, 1912, to Hattie Byrnes of Iola, who taught many citizens of Cotton, Singleton, Bedias, and Iola.

Will Smith was one of the original supervisors of the Bedias Soil Conservation District. He served as tax assessor and collector of Grimes County from 1913 to 1917. He was a member of the local draft board for the duration of World War II.

In his last years he raised, bought and sold "leopard" cow dogs. This was a hobby which brought him a flood of correspondence, and visits from many people. He shipped many dogs out of Texas, one as far as Hawaii.

Will H. Smith died August 17, 1952.

Children: Will D. and Morris.

ALBERT DOVE SNOW

A. D. Snow was born in Alabama in 1870, but he spent most of his life in and around Bedias. His first wife, Ida Thallan, whom he married in the early nineties, bore him five children and died while the children were still quite young. He later married Maggie Albertson.

For a good part of his life A. D. Snow farmed, but he was a handy man with a hammer and saw, and finally carpentry became his chief vocation. He had a hand in constructing many of the homes around Bedias.

Dove Snow was a mild man of pleasant and jovial disposition, but not so mild that he could not also become a law-enforcer. He served many years as deputy sheriff and constable. When the occasion demanded, he would lay down his tools of construction to

MRS. MARTHA REGISTER SMITH

Mrs. Martha Register Smith was born October 18, 1858. Departed this life to enter life more abundant and eternal, September 6, 1935, age 76 years, 10 months and 18 days. She was married to W. Jefferson Smith June 21, 1882. This union of 53 years, 2 months and 15 days, I am informed, was a congenial and happy period.

Born to these parents were 13 children, five boys and eight girls. Of the boys, three died in infancy, two still live, Thomas Smith of Bucatunna in this county, and Dave Smith of Detroit, Michigan. Two girls died in infancy and two have died since grown and married, viz: Mrs. J. W. Brunson and Mrs. A. J. Orr, and four still survive: Mrs. J. P. Williams of Waynesboro, Mrs. Lillian Tucker of Meridian, Mrs. T. H. Smith of Taylorsville, and Mrs. Minnie Mae Steadley of Waynesboro community.

Mrs. Smith was converted in early life and united with the church, living a consistent consecrated and devoted Christian life until the end of her life here in this world of sin and sorrow. Devoted to family, devoted to home, devoted to her church and devoted to her Christ. Sister Smith could be heard praying and praising as long as her speech was audible even in a whisper and while rational she said to her husband, "Be good, all of you, and I meet me in heaven."

Funeral services were conducted by the writer and the deceased was buried at the Big Creek cemetery near Clara.

A beautiful floral offering, a worthy emblem of the life lived, was presented by friends.

Yours in Jesus,

NATHANIEL JOHN SMITH

James Monroe was the fifth President of the United States of America. In 1822 New Orleans had become the capital of Louisiana. James Monroe served his country from 1817-1825.

Nathaniel John Smith was born on January 12, 1823 in the Mississippi Territory. The territory where he arrived is known today, in 1990, as Wayne County, Mississippi. His father and mother were English. His grandfather came from England.

Nathaniel was the oldest of twelve children that were born into the home of Oliver M. Smith and Barbara Ellen Byrd Smith. He helped raise his brothers and sisters, and was concerned about their welfare all his life.

He was eight years old when his parents moved into Mobile County in 1831. It was here that his brother, Robert was born. His parents moved again on March 10, 1848. The home place was three and a quarter miles from Mt. Vernon, Alabama near the Mobile River. It was here that Nathaniel learned the timber business from his father. It was in his father and mother's home that he learned about the love of Jesus Christ. He learned the magic word to success - "WORK." He enjoyed working and entered into it with gusto. This wonderful trait has been passed on to other generations. It was true for my husband and for his brothers.

I'll detour here, to tell you another story.

It was in 1978 when I had first moved back to Hattiesburg from Gautier, Mississippi. I needed a storehouse built in my back yard. My youngest son, David, lived in a little community out from Hattiesburg called Glendale, Mississippi. I didn't know who to hire that was reliable. David suggested a young man, who went to their church, that lived in their community, by the name of Edgar Cook. Everyone called him Jr. He is a fine looking young man and a hard worker. We hit it off just great. As the days went by I couldn't help but notice his happy disposition. He sang and whistled while he worked. His mannerisms made me think of the Smith men I had known. Finally, one day I asked him if he had any Smith blood in his veins. He said "My mother had been a Smith, but I don't think we are kin to your set of Smiths."

That afternoon David came by my home and I gave him a sack with several old Bibles that had belonged to his grandfather Smith. They were worn out from use. He carried them home. He just wanted to keep them. His wife, Barbara had taken them out of the sack and was looking through the Bibles when a clipping fell out. It was a death notice about Lonnie Smith, over in Baxterville. One of his daughters listed was Mrs. Edgar CookSr of Glendale.

I had met Lonnie Smith at a family reunion a long, long time ago and had pictures of him and his brother Luther with Aunt Kate.

The next morning when Mr. Cook came I told him to sit down. I had something exciting to tell him. I think I could have knocked him over with a feather, he was so surprised. We have become good friends. His grandson and my grandson played together at school and loved each other before they knew there was any blood relation. Mr. Cook told me how he use to go squirrel hunting on cold winter days with his grandpa Lonnie. When they would get tired and hungry and stop to rest, his grandpa would pull out of his jacket pocket the best baked sweet potatoes any one ever ate.

Getting back to my story of Nathaniel John Smith.

On another plantation close by was a family by the name of Brashears. In this household, according to the 1850 census, there was a house full of girls. The school master also lived in this home. The Brashears story is very interesting, I think. It will be told in another chapter. I only wish I could find as much information on Oliver M. Smith.

Nathaniel fell in love with the youngest daughter, Louisa Brashears. When she reached the age of fifteen he went to her father, Alexander Brashears and asked his permission to marry his baby girl. Nathaniel was twenty-seven years old.

Alexander Brashears gave a hand written permission for them to be married. It is on record at the Mobile County Courthouse in Mobile, Alabama. This writer also has a copy.

On the census record, it showed they were happily married on January 4 1850. He was also listed head of his household and they were living at Citronelle, Alabama. He still worked with his father in the timber business.

Timber was plentiful during this time and business was thriving. We find he not only was a hard worker, but he also believed in adventure. He was the only child of Oliver M. and Barbara Ellen Smith that ventured out on his own. Most of his brothers and sisters lived and died in the vicinity of their father's home place.

It was in 1851 that their first child was born. It was a boy and he was named Manson Marion Smith. On Jan 13, 1853, Benjamin Pierce Smith was born. They felt so blessed. Their next baby to arrive was little Jane. She wasn't strong enough to live in this world. She was just an infant when she went to be with the Lord. She is buried in the graveyard on her grandfather's, Oliver M. Smith's home place out from Mt. Vernon, Alabama.

Their next two babies were girls. The first was Catherine Adelia Smith, sometimes known as "Keet." The next was Lillian Bromley Smith. Two boys came next. John Nathaniel Smith was born March 10, 1860 and Oliver Smith was born in 1861.

When Louisa began to have children she became interested, not only in teaching her own children to read and write, but she was concerned also with the neighbors' children. She had been inspired by her husband, Nathaniel John Smith. He was a master with numbers, as well as with reading and writing.

She not only taught the children to read and write, but she instilled the love of God in their hearts, as well as the love of their country. She stressed Christian principals and high morals. All the children loved her. Nathaniel also took a great deal of interest in his children.

Manson Marion was ten years old and Benjamin Pierce was eight when the North declared war on the South. However the first shot was fired on Fort Sumter. It was a terrible war. Brother against brother, neighbor against neighbor. Abraham Lincoln was the 16th President of the United States. The South seceded from the Union and chose Jefferson Davis, a Mississippian, to lead them.

Aunt Kate said, "When the Civil War broke out Oliver M. Smith and his sons signed up."

This information came from "Washington County, Alabama 907 Census of Confederate Soldiers."

"Nathaniel John Smith was born January 12, 1823 in Wayne County, Mississippi. He entered service as a laborer under Captain White in 1861 in Ordnance Department at Mt. Vernon Arsenal and served to 1865."

Nathaniel moved his family to Mt. Vernon. He was stationed at Fort Stoddert and was fortunate in being stationed there for the duration of the war. Aunt Kate told me that his brother, Ebenezer was killed in battle.

There is a brick wall still standing at Fort Stoddert that Frank (Bud) Cole showed me and said, "Great Grandpa Oliver and his boys helped build that brick wall." Nathaniel was given the credit for building the flag pole that is still standing today.

When the Civil War was over and Nathaniel was given an honorable discharge, he moved his family into the "big timber."

He helped form a community that is still thriving today. It is called Charity Chapel.

On June 9, 1866 Barbara Ellen Smith was born. On March 9, 1869 George William was born, then Emiline Smith and Ira Smith arrived. It was on December 23, 1872 that their last child, Ludlous arrived.

Nathaniel and Louisa were known throughout the community as Holiness preachers. They believed in reading the Bible daily. They truly believed every word it said. Their home was a favorite place to meet and hear the scriptures read. Nathaniel interpreted the word of God and lead many a man to the Lord.

Nathaniel also took great interest in teaching his boys how to use a cross cut saw and how the proper way to fell the trees. They learned the importance in the caring of live stock and the beast of burden. How to keep up the ox wagons and keeping the plows sharp. They worked from daylight til dark, but it was a happy time for they had their father with them and there was great adventure to be had in the forest. However, it was backbreaking work. After cutting the trees they used the oxen to drag the logs to the banks of the river. When Spring came they made a large raft for their barrels, cooking utensils, food, etc. Their logs were in position to float down the river to Mobile and sometime down to Mossy Point Mississippi. Mrs. J. M. Strickland told me how the men would stand on the logs and ride them down to Mossy Point where the were sold. Working them and keeping them in position with their feet. At night they pulled into the bank and after securing their rafts and cargo they built a big bonfire. It was to keep the bears and other wild animals away from their camp site. When supper was cooked and their chores were finished, they ate their supper and talked about the happenings of the day's activities. Usually, someone had a banjo or guitar to play and sing. They were all tired, but the music helped relax their weary bones. But they would drift off to sleep one by one under the stars, listening to the sounds of the night and the popping and snapping of the burning wood.

Rafting the logs down the river was something the boys looked forward to. It seemed that the older they got the more they looked forward to being able to take on more responsibility under the direction of their father. It was also a leisure time. School was out and the household chores that had been assigned to them were now assigned to the younger boys at home. It was also a time to have their father's attention and respect. They were fast becoming men, but they held a deep love and respect for their father and they tried always to do their best.

In these trips they experienced adventure and hard work. They learned that their father was a man among men. The other men looked to Nathaniel for leadership. The boys were learning the timber business from the ground up. They would follow this trade all their lives. They were exposed to city life in Mobile and found that life in the city was of a faster pace than in the country. Nathaniel had set an example for his boys. They had been brought up to honor their father and mother and to know right from wrong. Nathaniel trusted his sons and the evils that existed in Mobile held no temptation for them. They knew and loved the Lord and also wanted to do His bidding.

Prize fighting had become the rage of the day. Most every man seemed to want to test his strength and agility and dreamed of becoming the national champion. The men of the forest began to organize matches between themselves. Later they welcomed anyone that wanted to challenge the winner and whoever wanted to join in the fun.

Large crowds began to come together along the river banks as word went out that the loggers were rafting the logs to the mill.

The fights brought excitement to the little communities and to the fighters, a name for themselves. Nathaniel defeated all comers in the region and found himself a champion. He soon found that the fights were taking its toll on his timber business. There were too many demands from champions outside wanting to fight and men who were seeking publicity for themselves. He also realized the fights were interfering with his home and church life and he decided to give up the contest.

Ludlous was Nathaniel and Louisa's youngest son. He was only thirteen years old when he was suddenly taken ill. Aunt Kate didn't tell me what the trouble was, but she said that when he was dying his family were on their knees around his bed. They were praying and suddenly looked up and beheld his spirit leave his body. God had allowed them to see through spiritual eyes, "His wonders to perform." It was on January 13, 1885 when Ludlous went to be with the Lord.

Nathaniel set aside a large acreage of land for a cemetery and it's still in use today in 1990.

It was in these early days after meeting in Nathaniel and Louisa's home for prayer meetings and Bible study that Nathaniel felt the need to build a church. It was in 1891 that he and Seabourn Reid built the first Charity Chapel Church with the help of its members.

The day the church was finished Manson Marion Smith and his wife came to visit his mother and father. They let them spend the night in the new church. That night their 7th child arrived and they named the little girl Alice. Dr. W. W. Wallace is the son of Sophronia Smith, daughter of Manson Marion Smith, who was first married to Jim Knight. He was killed by a two-by-four being driven through his body in the Purvis Cyclone of 1906. She later married J. D. Wallace, the father of W. W. Wallace who told me this story.

The church was picked up and moved to its present location around 1918 or 1919. On July 3, 1985 the church burned to the ground because of faulty wiring. It was again rebuilt in 1989 by Abb Cole's sons and others.

Saw mills were moving into the South and there was a large one being built in Fairford, Alabama. Nathaniel and Louisa moved from Charity Chapel to the "big timber" at Fairford. We don't know the cause of Louisa's death. Her body was brought home to Charity Chapel.

This writer feels that Nathaniel made hers and his tombstone, for on it is the word "Louiza." It looks as though it was written with a large nail. On his tombstone is written "Nathal." These were the pet names they called each other.

He was lost without her. Life was not the same. He visited among his children, but still maintained his home at Fairford.

It was in 1903 that we find court records where he is trying to settle his father's will. It was long past due. His mother and father and all their children were dead except himself and his youngest brother. There were scores of grandchildren that had not received their rightful inheritance and he had carried it to court to be settled.

In this paper he tells us he is 80 years old and is a timberman by trade. He gives his address as Fairford, Alabama.

It was in 1914, the year my husband was born, that Nathaniel John Smith died. He had gone to Baxterville, Mississippi to visit his son, John Nathaniel. While there he became ill. Word went out throughout the community that he was deathly ill. The neighbors came and filled the house, as well as the yard. They were there to console the family.

All of a sudden, Nathaniel leaped out of the bed. He told them, I am fixing to leave you now. I expect you to meet me over on the other side." He thanked them all for coming. He went around the room, shook hands with the people and hugged his loved ones. He got back in bed, pulled up the covers over his head and died.

Aunt Kate Smith Quinn told this writer this story one time when she came to see us.

I told this story to Dr. W. W. Wallace. He asked his Aunt Leona if it were true. She said, "Yes, it was." He also showed her the drawing of Nathaniel John Smith and asked her if she knew who it was, she said, "Why it's grandpa."

Nathaniel John's body was lovingly carried back to Charity Chapel cemetery in a wagon. It was placed by his beloved wife.

In 1983 this writer had the privilege of visiting their graves. Years later in 1993 I was reading the Bible and read the following verse from the King James version of the Bible, Genesis 49:33.

"And when Jacob had made an end of commanding his sons, he gathered up his feet into the bed, and yielded up the ghost, and was gathered unto his people."

A MAN OF MYSTERY

1795-1874

After searching I could not find any other information except the following :

Old St. Stephen's Land Office Records and American State Papers Public Land Volume 1 1768-1888 by Marilyn Davis Hahn, published in 1983 on page 55.

It states that on June 18, 1836 that Oliver M. Smith purchased land in Township 2s, range 2W and at that time he was living in Mobile County Alabama.

I also found Oliver M. Smith listed in a book by the name of "Old Tuskaloosa Land Office Records and Military Warrants of 1821-1855" by Marilyn Davis Barefield. It shows on page 83 that on December 12, 1836 that Oliver M. Smith purchased land on section three, township 18 and range 6W. It also showed he was residing in Jefferson County Alabama.

It was in April of 1987 that my friend, Delores Milling and I made the trip to Mr. and Mrs. John C. Harris' home. He and his wife were very kind to us and we had a most enjoyable lunch and a short tour of the 643 acres that had in years past belonged to Oliver M. Smith.

Oliver M. Smith had received a Spanish Land Grant and "purchased it from the United States and Patent Office on the 10th of March in 1843." It was signed by President John Tyler who was the 10th President of the United States.

Mr. Harris carried us to the graveyard. It had a nice new chain link fence around it. The fence had been installed by Dan Smith and Maude Cooley who were great great grandchildren of Oliver M. Smith. May I pause to say, "Thank You." The tombstones had been erected by Oliver's grandson Glenn Smith. Glenn Smith was a child of George Smith who was Oliver's youngest child.

There was a huge magnolia tree in the center of the graveyard. The ground cover was layers of magnolia leaves that had been accumulating for years and years and years.

It was a very special moment for me to visit my husband's great, great grandfather's grave and to walk on the very land that he had walked

'The most information I was able to find on Oliver M. Smith was from the 1850 census record in Mobile County Alabama.

He gave his age of being fifty-five years old. He was born in South Carolina. We have not been able to find the county, town or district that he came from as there were none listed. He stated that he was a farmer by trade.

'There has been quite a bit of speculation among the different Smith families. Some say he was a lawyer and had offices in Leaksville, Mississippi. Others say he was sent into Alabama by the Methodist church as a missionary preacher to the Indians. I have a tendency to believe what he said, "He was a farmer." Instead of saying he was a farmer one might say he was a planter.

All the members of the Smith family that I have known and spoken with could only remember a limited amount of information about Oliver's origin.

Aunt Kate Quinn recalled in a letter to me in 1959 the following:

"Great, Great Grandpa John Smith immigrated from England to the United States of America over three hundred years ago. All I know is what Grandpa "Nat" told me when I was a kid. 'The only thing I remember now is that he (John Smith) came from England to the Eastern part of the country. He, grandpa "Nat" never saw him, but Great Grandpa Oliver M. Smith told him about his people.

Oliver's father was John. He said, "John had brothers and sisters, but he (John) was the only one of his family that came South and settled.

'This brief account of prior history in South Carolina represents the extent of knowledge handed down from generation to generation in the Oliver M. Smith family.

When you go looking for a John Smith you find hundreds of them. What I failed to do was to ask Aunt Kate which John Smith she was talking about .

Through this 1850 census record we were able to determine that Oliver M. Smith was born in the year of 1795 in South Carolina.

Some think that Oliver M. Smith came into the Mississippi Territory with Thomas Byrd. We don't know, but be that as it may, we find on this census record that he married Barbara Ellen Byrd. She was fifteen years old and was born in 1807 in Alabama. Oliver M. Smith was twenty-six when he married in 1821.

They were living in the Mississippi Territory when their first child, Nathaniel John was born January 13, 1823. "That part of the territory is now known as Wayne County Mississippi."

Nathaniel John was not listed on the 1850 census as being in the household of Oliver M. Smith, but was head of his own household. He married January 4, 1850 and is the child of Oliver M. Smith that your line of decent comes from.

Their second child Catherine was not listed on the 1850 census, but was listed in Oliver's will as his child.

Their third child was Ira Byrd Smith who was born December 16, 1827 in Green County Mississippi. The date and place of Ira's birth is authenticated by affidavit by Emiline Brashears Smith, his wife in 1906.

Oliver M. and Barbara Ellen must have moved from Mississippi into Alabama around 1830 or 1831 as their fourth child, Robert Walker Smith was born in 1831 in Alabama.

It was in 1843 when Oliver M. and Barbara Ellen settled in Mobile County for good. The location of their homestead was three and one-fourth miles from Mt. Vernon, Alabama.

Mr. John C. Harris gave me a folder that had the history of Mt. Vernon, Ala. It had been named after the home of our first President, George Washington.

Dr. W. W. Wallace, a grandson of Manson Marion Smith, brother to Benjamin Pierce Smith, also sent me information on Mt. Vernon. It was the nearest town to the old homestead and remains today much like it was in those olden days. It was a frontier town with a special significance not only to our family but also to the history of the United States.

Fort Stoddert, around which the town was built, was established in 1799. It was originally intended to protect the settler from the Indians as well as the Spaniards.

The troops stationed here guarded the port of entry to the United States during the years of 1799 to 1813.

The 31° parallel later became the boundary line between Mobile and Washington Counties and the border to Spanish West Florida. The troops that were stationed here supervised the removal of the Indians in the 1830s.

Historically, Mt. Vernon and Fort Stoddert are most often remembered for receiving and holding Aaron Burr. He was suspected of treason against the young United States in 1806. Then in 1886 Geronimo and his Apache warriors were imprisoned here.

Oliver M. Smith and sons helped build this wall during the Civil War.

POST DESIGNATED ARSENAL

An act of Congress authorized the Mount Vernon Arsenal on May 28, 1828. The act was signed by President Andrew Jackson in 1830.

The arsenal was enclosed by a brick wall, ten feet high and two feet thick, in the shape of a horse-shoe. The bricks were all burned to make them more substantial. The wall was also covered with sheet copper to make a stronger fortification. The wall minus the copper is practically intact today.

The reservation land is marked by cannons from old Fort Stoddert, standing upright in the ground. Each cannon is marked with a number, the number being placed on them in the arsenal blacksmith shop.

The arsenal was built to support several thousand stands of arms. There were two powder magazines which were built one half mile from the central arsenal. The great supply of arms was necessary for the protection of the country along the Spanish border.

There were no regular troops stationed at the arsenal, only twenty to thirty ordnance men under the command of the lieutenant of the Ordnance Department.

A financial estimate as to the cost of constructing the arsenal was about $34,000. This figure included initial construction figures. However, according to a statement concerning arsenals of the government in 1836, it was found that there was no original estimate made for the Mount Vernon Arsenal. Evidence was also found that in 1836 the arsenal was complete except portions of the brick wall, this proving the wall was built later than 1831.

Besides storing munitions of war, other principle operations of the arsenal were the manufacture of bricks; pine timber; the erection of buildings; repair work; sewers were built and maintained and roads and bridges were kept in order.

2 (COPIED FROM BOOKLET THAT IS HANDED OUT AT FORT STODDERT AT MT. VERNON, ALABAMA)

It was also here where Oliver M. and his boys helped build a brick wall around Fort Stoddert and put up the flag pole during the Civil War .

By 1903 Oliver M. Smith, Barbara Ellen Byrd Smith and all of their children were dead except two. The oldest, Nathaniel John Smith and the youngest, George Smith.

Teena and Frank Wolcott sent a copy of a legal paper to Dr. W. W. Wallace and he in turn sent me a copy for which I am truly grateful.

It was from this paper that we found for the first time what Oliver M. Smith's name was. It was the only time I had seen his full name written out. It is Oliver Meredith Smith. I shall continue to call him Oliver M.

Nathaniel John Smith told that he was a timberman by trade. He stated he was eighty years old on the 13th day of January 1903 and lived at Fairford, Alabama.

I felt you would be interested in hearing the description of Oliver M. Smith's land in the words of Nathaniel John Smith. They are as follows :

"These lands had not been depredated upon for turpentine.

"I mean by tillable land fields growing in rice and corn. Some of the land, is cleared up; I mean that it would be tillable if it was cultivated.

"The timber is long-leaf yellow pine. On that land there is some rosemary, but this is long-leaf yellow pine.

"That land is level land. In the swamp it is lower land, of course, than the other. The South portion of the land, a place a half mile wide, is lower than the level land.

"It is a noble place for farming. The value of the land has increased since Mt. Vernon has built up.

"There is nice timber - oak, pine, some juniper and some cypress. Not all the land is of the same kind. Some of it is swamp. I should say each part of that land was of the same value. I think swamp and high land are of like value for this reason, there is this bay, and this wood is in the market now. It is growing on that land. Juniper, cypress, bay and maple is all used in the market now (1903).

"Juniper is worth more than pine. I suppose juniper is scattered in about forty acres of that land, cypress is scattered in about forty acres of that land, cypress is scattered all over it in the low lands, in the flat woods. About eighty acres in swamp land.

"The swamp land is of the same value exactly as the other land.

"In one corner of the land, the South West corner, the Cedar Creek runs through it. Some of the land is across the creek from the main body. It is otherwise practically in a solid body.

"The land is three and a quarter miles from Mt. Vernon, Alabama."

Oliver M. and Barbara Ellen had twelve children of their own. On the 1850 census they had two extra children living with them by the name of Byrd and on the 1860 census they had a girl by the name of E. J. Reid in their household.

Oliver M. Smith was a man of God. We learn this from his will. The following are the last two paragraphs copied from his handwritten will, showing that he was an educated man, as well as, his faith in God. He headed his will in this manner:

"In the name of Almighty God, Amen.

"And now, after committing my whole family to the protection and mercy of the God who made them, let me enjoin on them the duty which they owe to their mother and to each other, that they can continue to live unitedly and affectionately, aiding and assisting each other in all things that are honourable and just."

"In conclusion, I recommend all my family to the mercy of that Power which for three score and ten years has protected and sustained me in the changes and trials of this world, and may God in His mercy, be with them and support them is the last prayer of their affectionate father."

Oliver M. Smith

Oliver M. Smith died in 1874. He and Barbara Ellen are buried on his old home place in Mobile County Alabama.

I dreamed one night, after working on this paper that I should call him "a man of mystery." Maybe, in years to come, someone will be able to unravel the mystery of this wonderful old man.

The Last Will and Testament of Oliver M. Smith
(As translated by Teena and Frank Wolcott)

In the name of Almighty God, Amen.

Feeling that I have but a short time to live I now make and constitute this, my last will and testament.

I give and bequeath to my beloved wife, Barbary Ellen Smith all that I possess consisting of lands, stocks, household furniture, horses, cattle, carriages, carry logs, tools, implements of all sorts, moneys on loan and due to me, irrespective of the claims of my children or their heirs, to be possessed and enjoyed by her during her natural life and after her death to be divided among all my children, share and share alike.

It is also my will that my beloved wife may sell and dispose of any of the lands that I now possess or any of the stock, consisting of horses, cattle, sheep, oxen, tools or implements for her support or for the support of any of the children that she may think proper.

It is also my will that my beloved wife Barbary Ellen may, if she is so disposed, sell any of the property, or all of it that I may possess, and purchase elsewhere any lands, stock, for her comfort and support, and if all the property which I now bequeath to my wife, Barbary Ellen, is exhausted and spent by her in ministering to her wants or wishes, it's my will and injunction to my children that they assent thereto, and give her, their mother all assistance and aid in their power in carrying out this, my last will and testament.

And now, after committing my whole family to the protection and mercy of the God who made them, let me enjoin on them, the duty which they owe to their mother and to each other, that they can continue to live unitedly and affectionately, aiding and assisting each other in all things that are honourable and just. In conclusion, I commend all my family to the mercy of the Power which for three score and ten years has protected and sustained me in the changes and trials of this world, and may God, in his mercy, be with them and support them is the last prayer of their affectionate father.

WEAKLEY COUNTY TENNESSEE

WEAKLEY COUNTY ESTABLISHED 1827 OUT OF THE WESTERN DISTRICT

WEAKLEY COUNTY was one of the 11 group of counties established in the month of October 1827 by the Legislature. (October 23, 1827).

The county was named in honor of COL. ROBERT WEAKLEY. The Act provided that the sessions of the county and circuit courts should be held at the home of JOHN TERRELL until otherwise provided.

JAMES FENWICK, BENJAMIN REYNOLDS and ROBERT JETTON and WILLIAM MARTIN were on the commission to locate the county seat, with the understanding that the name of such selected place should be called DRESDEN. In competition for the site with the place of JOHN TERRELL was that of WILLIAM WILLINGHAM about a mile and a half further north. The fine spring of water on the Terrell place won. Then JOHN TERRELL conveyed a tract of thirty-nine acres for the townsite to ADAM R. ALEXANDER and JOHN MURRAY, who, in turn, conveyed the same to the commissioners. Then the tract was surveyed and platted & the town lots sold. Among the first to purchase lots were WILLIAM H. JOHNSON, J. W. ROGERS, JEPHIA GARDNER and the VINCENTS.

The first county court of WEAKLEY CO. was composed of the following justices:

J. R. Shultz	Stephen Smart
Joseph Wilson	John Webb
William Webster	John H. Moore
Denell Campbell	Perry Vincent
John Terrell	Wears Warner
E. D. Dickson	Miles Gilbert

The court continued to hold its sessions at the house of JOHN TERRELL & BENJAMIN BONDURANT, at Dresden until April, 1828. The next session was held in the new courthouse.

The first justices of the county selected by the people after 1830 were:

Woodson Roffe	Thomas S. Edwards

The grand jury returned a bill against WILLIAM WARD for assault and battery. He plead guilty and was fined.

At the May term the following trial jury was selected:

John Jenkins	Amasa Parham
Joel Radysaid	Perry Vincent
John W. Rodgers	James Drew
John M. Shultz	John R. Shultz
Thomas Parham	Turner Binham

Judge MILTON BROWN, afterwards United States Congressman, presided over the first Chancery Court held in the County of Weakley in 1736. He was succeeded by GEORGE W. GIBBS who held court in the County after 1838 for a time.

Some of the first lawyers to practice in Weakley County and appear at Dresden included:

Samuel A. Warner
Henry A. Sample
A. G. Bondurant
William Fitzgerald
Henry A. Garrett
John A. Gardner
*John Grundy

*This JOHN GRUNDY, early attorney, was the son of the famous FELIX GRUNDY, of Tennessee fame.

(COL. JOHN A. GARDNER stood at the head of his profession as a lawyer in Weakley County for a number of years. BARNES ELLIS, Hon. M. D. Cantrell and Col. JOHN A. ROGERS also were among the top lawyers.)

EARLY SETTLEMENTS AND THE FIRST RESIDENTS OF WEAKLEY COUNTY

DRESDEN, the county seat of Weakley was established in 1827-8 on the lands of JOHN TERRELL, as heretofore stated.

MARTIN, another town was established long later in 1873 on lands belonging to the heirs of WILLIAM MARTIN.

GREENFIELD, which like MARTIN, was on the railroads, was also established in 1873, on the lands of JOSEPH WARD and SAMUEL BAKER.

DUKEDOM was the name of a small place in the northern part of the county, named for DUKE A. BEADLES its first merchant and postmaster.

The first settlers in what is now Weakley County were REUBEN EDMONSTON and JOHN BRADSHAW, his brother - in law. They came in 1819, and settled on MUD CREEK six miles west of JOHN TERRELL, where Dresden was established nearly ten years later. ARCHIBALD EDMONSTON was the father of REUBEN, and he came to the same settlement in 1820. The EDMONSTONS and BRADSHAWs were from TODD COUNTY, Kentucky. Archibald Edmonston stayed at Bradshaw's until the next Spring, when he settled permanently on the north fork of the OBION RIVER.

ISAAC H. WARD and WILLIAM MILES also came to Bradshaw's in 1822-3, followed by a man named GLASGOW, DUDLEY GLASS, SR., LEVI CLARK and ISRAEL JONES.

LEVI MIZELL, JOSEPH WILSON and a JOHN WEBB located at the RIDGEWAY SKITTLE MEET on Cane Creek, followed by the RIDGEWAYS, BUCKLETS, KILLBRENS and the KILGORES.

The first settlers around what became DRESDEN were JOHN TERRELL, PERRY VINCENT, DR. JUBILEE ROGERS, BENJAMIN BONDURANT, RICHARD PORTER, JEPHIA GARDNER, ALFRED GARDNER, ROBERT POWELL, NELSON MAILING, VINCENT RUST, CLAIRBORNE STONE, THOMAS PARHAM, JOHN H. REAVIS and others.

In the northeast corner of WEAKLEY County the following families located early: HENRY STEVENSON, JOHN STEVENSON, ISAAC and WILLIAM WILLINGHAM, JOHN F. CAVITT, JOHN ROGERS, JESSE B. DAVIS, PETER WILLIAMS and BENJAMIN FARMER (The latter of the Halifax County, Virginia, family).

Col. F.C. Bowen
Route 1, Box 154A
Afton, Va., 22020

Dear Col. Bowen:

I have recently become interested in Genealogy, and it has almost become an abseesion with me. Well, I got a years subscription to "MISSISSIPPI GENEALOGICAL EXCHANGE" for Christmas. It wasn't enough so I ordered 6 years in arrears.

In the Winter Volume 4, 1974, I found your inquiry about the Gardners of N.C., S.C., & Miss. I have traced my ancestors back to the 1790's, and a John Gardner and his family came to Mississippi via Tennessee from North Carolina. He brought with him my ancestors the Walley children. I haven't found out why yet, but my G.G.G Grandfather married John Gardner's daughter, Susan Gardner. There also was brothers to Susan, but I only know one was John A. Gardner Jr. They all were in the 1820 Census for Greene County, Mississippi.

There are Gardners in Laurel, Mississippi and I have just recently written to them and haven't gotten any response as yet. I don't know if Marmaduke Gardner is a brother or not, but on my searches I will keep him in mind.

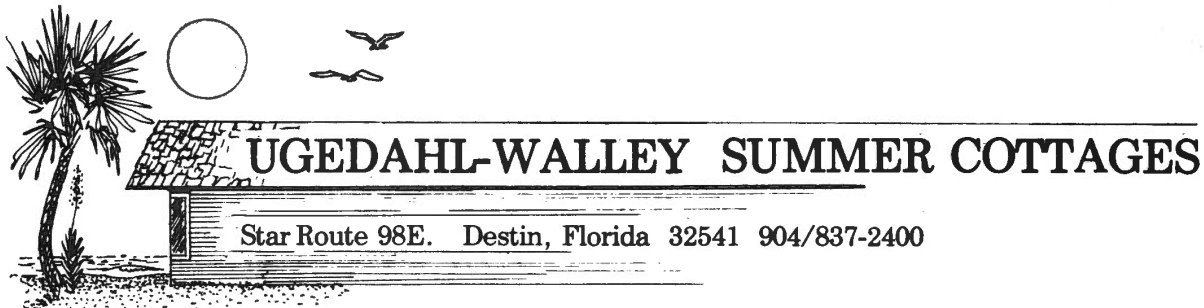

I was born and raised in Perry County, Mississippi, in a town called Richton. There are Bowens there. I could ask them if they know about Marmaduke or Catherine _____ or maybe you have found her in these past 5 years.

Would appreciate hearing from you , and if you have any info that you think might help me I would appreciate it very much, as my time is limited.

Sincerely yours,

Harry W. Walley

Dear Jean + Ben:

Just a quick note to let you know that we are still alive and O.K.

Miss your letters a lot but have been on the road for the last week and looks like I have to go and take Aunt Essie back to Chatom, Al.

The note in the RD is jumbled, so I'll try to explain and will try to get Mom to explain Wednesday on the way to Ala.

Mr Caldwell married Dorothy Walley Bros. Buddy Lawrence (Cynthia) + Burry, Bruce. The children of Mom's Uncle Pink Walley (Bro to Mary Angeline (Molly) Walley (Wilson). As you recall his name was General Pinkham Walker (Wilson). I don't really understand why those kids weren't named Wilson?

I didn't know Miss. had a Senator by the name of Thad Cochran, did you? Wonder if he has a resume of his family?

Well I'll stop for now, and hope you are recovering fast.

Yours

In answer to your note.

What little I know of the origin of the Walleys.

They came from Derbyshire England.
I found several Walley names. When in England a few years ago.

In the Telephone directories of the large cities it was a common name.

Biographies have become quite a racket.

Dear Harry,

I've been talking with a Mrs Phyllis Stinson who lives in George Co., MS. She and her husband have 3 Walley ancestors, all who seem to lead back to Sookbury. Her family story has 3 Walley brothers coming from N.C. one probably settled in Alabama and two in Mississippi. The names she thinks are William, John and Thomas. And there were a John b. before 1775 and a Thomas b. before 1762 here before 1815. And your ancestor name was said to be William. — It could be; with a stop in S. C.

Mrs Stinson will be talking with Jean Strickland in a week or two

I don't know if the Halliman information will be of any help to you. I tried to include most of the early ones and general information. There is also a section on early wills, and such, from places like N.C.

Dear Mrs Strickland,

In my search into the genealogy of the Manning family in Greene Co, ms. I have found the following:

1840 Greene Co. CS:

John Manning 000010001 - 1f (50-60)
Robert Manning 101000100 - 01100100

From data furnished by Patricia Edward the wife of Robert Manning was Sally Holley. The 1840 CS shows her to be 30 to 40 years old.

1850 Greene Co. CS.

Robert Mannan	age 53	Georgia
Sarah	36	ms
Reece	15	ms
Robert	11	ala
Margaret	6	ms

This is Robert Manning with a new wife Sara. Reece (Reese/Rees) is probably Sarah's child by a previous marriage. The father of Margaret is questionable. Robert must be the son of Robert & Sally Manning.

You have presented this family in "who married whom", Greene Co. page 68, as Robert Mannox, Reese is shown as Roscoe. CS was hard to read.

— 1860 CS Greene Co. (Copy attached)
Reese shows up as Rees Brewer, age 22
(married to a Martha, age 18)

I have carefully searched the 1860 Greene Co, Jackson Co, Perry Co, Wayne Co. CS for Robert, Sarah, son Robert or Margaret. They can not be found in these counties.

— Perhaps in Ala —

Sarah & Robert continued to have children;

John Andrew Manning 1854

Martin Van Manning 1853

family data say they were living near Richton, Perry Co. no proof.

Sarah is found in Jackson Co 1870 CS unmarried to a B. Gray, Robert, Jr & his wife Matilda live in the next H. H.

I have been told by at least four older descendants of John Manning that his father died when he was young & his mother's maiden name was Sarah Walling.

Analysis of 1830 Greene CS - Walling - shows Gouldsbury Walling with a female born 1810-1815.

my purpose in writing this is to ask a couple of questions:

1. where did you find the genealogy data on
"who m whom" Greene Co.?
2. Father of Reesi Bower?
3. what does AR (before the birth date) mean?
4. do you know of anyone that has genealogy of Bower family (over)

I have written Mrs John F B Mcendon.

5. Genealogy of Gouldsbury Walley

6. His wife Susannah Gardner?

you may want to fill in on Ruth Kupper

Dear Mrs. Hickland

Tues PM

I received your letter and copies of documents this morning and was enthralled by it.

I will let you in on some of my searching - Mr. Timothy Keller, Clergy Clerk of Hancock Co. is a friend of my family & has done a search for a divorce decrees on J. J. Smith & S. S. M. Smith - none found. R. R. Davis, Clergy Clerk of Pearl River County is a distant cousin of mine and his search for a divorce decree was also negative.

Thanks for the info on the dates of re-marriage of J. J. Smith to Lura Pearl Howard. You had previously sent me the copy of the 1900 census showing J. J. being married to her.

You stated that you could find nothing further on William S. (half brother to Levi W.) I found one in Poplarville (PHE Courthouse) where W. S. Smith, son of J. J. Smith (Stone Refurbish Springs, Fla. married Lera Mae Howard, daughter of V. B. Howard (home Picayune, MS.) on 21 January 1933.

At time of marriage (according to record) J. J. Smith was 41 years old and Lera Mae was 21 years old.

I have two newspapers also looking soon, hoping that I can find some living descendants of James Jordan Smith or Lera Mae Howard Smith.

I don't think the 1920 census of Harrison Co. showing Mrs. J. J. Smet is the same person - Lena Mae Howard Smet
Now to change the subject again -
"Londrum"

Had a Londrum family reunion just recently. There is no doubt that Martha Londrum is the daughter of Matthew. Your explanation of not being part of the estate is what I figured already.

Now comes the bigger -
My wife has Londrums on her side of the family and has traced them back quite a way. She (and I) would like to know, if possible, who Matthew's parents were. Can you help us on this?

I have decided to write to the MS
Bureau of Vital Statistics to get them to research for a death certificate of Janet Susan Mitchell Smet.

Please keep in touch

Dear Jean + Ben:

Hope this finds you both in excellent health. We are doing fairly well. Ere has 'gout' in his foot and has to stay off it, otherwise we are O.K.

Your new car sounds great. It is hard for me to picture Ben driving it though. As big as he is, he must have to fold up to get into it. I guess it's not as bad as I have it pictured in my mind, though.

Let's hope that this weather is over for another year. It hasn't been too bad here. Oh it was for one weekend. But all in all not that bad. It has been bad enough to keep me from digging in the dirt and planting things.

Miriam made me promise today that I would come home and sit down and write you a note of thanks for your info you sent. Her ancestor is Susan Russell (Sonderson) Gamble. It seems that Sonderson came South and petitioned the divorce and Susan married the Gamble soon afterwards (her line) She was hoping that the divorce material would say where Susan was at the time.

Miriam and I were talking about Genealogy and she (he) mentioned the name ~~Sub~~ Selby from Kemper Co. Miss who moved to Joys Co. in 1840's. His sister (Selby) married a Roberts. His name was John Jones Roberts. He had a son named Thomas Berry Roberts. They come to Miss. from N.C.

I don't know that they are related but at least I thought it was at least a name.

I guess you never know when a name might yield something. For whatever it is worth her name and address is:

Mrs. T. B. Roberts (Flora)

3001 12th Ave E.

Tuscaloosa, Al. 35405

I guess I'll write to her and give her our line of Roberts and see if she can match up any of them. Miriam says she was very helpful and shared quite a bit of info with her. Unfortunately it was on the Selby family and not on the Roberts, which of course, Miriam was not interested in.

Well I guess I'll close for now and get to bed.

Again my thanks as well as Miriam's for your help with her problem.

Yours.

Harry

Dear Ben & Jean:

Hope this finds all well there. We are doing pretty good of late. With all that has happened to us this year, I would say that we held ~~up~~ pretty good. Our land deal never went through, which was a really big disappointment to us both. Especially since we had gone out and bought 10 Acres to move all our ~~our~~ rentals on to it. We spent all kinds of money to get a road and culvert put in as well as 20 spots cleared where the houses were to sit. I must say at this point it looks pretty dim, but all hope has not faded as the Realtor is still trying to pull something together. But we'll see.....

Also with all the deaths that has happened in our family and close freinds, it has be a bit to bear. I have probably told you this before but don't remember. First a good Freind's wife (my age) died of a cerbreal hemmorage, then my Uncle Ken, and 2 days later my Dad died. At this point I was a nervous wreck, as all the arrangements were left up to me to make. I had to be strong and hold everybody up. Then we ran up to the mountains for a few days and dropped back by Mom's and that night our Cousin who had moved a trailor in behind Gwen's had to rushed to the Hospital where he died of a Heart attack. Well we buried him then came back home only to find out that Mary Dumville had fallen and broke her hip and had to have surgery. Miriam called a couple of days later to tell me the Doctor had called and Mary had taken a turn for the worse. By the time we got there she had died of a Heart Attack coming from a blood clot in her hip. Well, I helped Miriam with all her plans for getting Mary Cremeated and got her Neice here to drive her to Va. where Mary was to be buried.

Needless to say, I wasn't feeling any good at this point. Erl made me promise to go to the Doctor, and I did. He told me that he couldn't do anything for me and sent me to a Psychiatrist in Fort Walton Hospital. They kept me for 9 days and evaluated me as being in a state of acute depression, and close to Parnoa. I feel very good now, but have to take anti-depression pills each night before I go to bed. Well enough about me.....

Have you two had any luck with gen.? I have been trying to get things in order at my desk today, so ran across a few things that I needed to store in my files. I thought that I should answer your last letter. Sorry about the speeding ticket.....It happens to the best of us.

Sure hope that the Ferguson book spreads some light on William Allen Smith.....If I can be of any help, please let me know.....

Looking forward to hearing from you again.....Oh! We have Mom for a while with us here in Fla. She seems to be enjoying herself.

Let us hear from you, P.S. Please Note: Address Change. We are getting Yours, Garry so big down here that they have named ~~all~~ streets and given us numbers. The old address is

Dear Jean & Ben:

Hope this finds the two of you well and in good spirits. Sure hope that you survived the cold weather. We of course, had lots of broken pipes. We still haven't fixed all of them, but got the ones that needed fixing because people were in the Cottages. The Cottages that are unoccupied we just shut off the water and are getting them as we go. We are doing pretty well. Nothing to brag about but still getting around.

Thanks for the info on the cemetery. I am sure that there are still some that are still out there that you didn't get, but I guess some day they will show up. We got Dad's and Uncle Ken's Headstones up in Frisco. I haven't seen them as yet, but Gwen says that they look nice. I told Mom what to put on her side, but when she got there to buy it she forgot what I told her and only put "Bessie S. Walley", and I wanted the name Smith. Well it goes to show you that if you want something done ~~like~~ you want it, then you have to do it yourself.

Erl & I had dinner last night with Miriam Dumville. It is the first time we have seen her since before XMas. She went to N.J. for the Holidays. We were talking last night and got around to talking about genealogy. She was in contact with a Lady that had found some info on some of her relatives, and the Lady found this info in Ala. The county was Lowdnes Co. Ala. She wrote to the County Court house but has never received any answer. It seems to have been some time ago. I told Miriam that I would ask you about Lowdnes Co. The parties involved was Susan Russell and Almond Sanderson. It seems that they applied for a divorce there. There was a ~~Jessie~~ Sanderson involved also. Somehow / bro. to Almond Sanderson.

Well Mom is doing fine. I am due to go get her to come and stay with us for awhile. Gwen loves her very much and wants to make sure that she is fine, but she does "Cramp" their style some times and needs to have a vacation every now and then. Also Cecil is at a lull right now since Deer season is over. Mom is no trouble for any of us, but she does seem to give Gwen a harder time than she does anyone else. But Mom is a delight for Erl and me. We sit around and eat all day and night. I "let" Mom in the kitchen and tell her to "get at it" and she loves that, whereas Gwen doesn't want her near her kitchen. Gwen is so particular about who get in her kitchen, and her house is always so clean. On the other hand we live in our house and may not vaccuum for a week. In fact it is hard for us to keep the dishes clean from day to day. Well, it will be a delight to have her here again and listen to some more of her stories. You never know when she is going to come out with a new tale about the old days.

Well, I really don't have much to say, just thanks for the Cemetery info. If you do find out anymore news that you think would interest me please let me know. Keep in contact.....

Yours,

Roger, Hope today was a Happy time at your House, was at mine. But, have retreated into my 'puter for peace and quiet and Had a thought (I'm allowed one a day). Bear with me!!!
Dr Neal Smith born Feb 11 1784 in NC, son of MALCOLM and Sarah Moran (SMITH) Smith. He served in NC house of Commons came to St Stephens in 1812, served INdian wars 1812-1814, moved to Suggsville in 1816, represented Clarke Co in both branches as senator for 12 yrs. Served in 3rd Militia regiment under Gen Claiborn's command in Civil War. Dr Smith was married on May 10, 1821 to Jane Westmoreland Armistead. She was only dau of Capt. Wm Armistead by his second wife, Mrs Elizabeth Westmoreland Lewis Morris Armistead, widow of John Morris. The Smiths moved to Gainestown where they died, were parents of 10 children: JULIA Elizabeth Smith, LOUISA Sarah Smith, MARGARET Ann Smith, ROBERT Armistead Smith, Dr NEAL Smith Jr, MALCOLM W Smith, JANE Armistead Smith, MARTHA Rebecca Smith, KATHERINE Janet Smith, and MARY Caroline Smith. NOW, ROGER, could Malcolm W be the father of your Julia Frances? He has 2 brothers, Robt & Neal Jr.???HUH???
If name patterns follow, Malcolm is named after his gfather, his dau could be after his sister JULIA ELIZABETH. Since most children were 2 yrs apart makes Malcolm born abt 1833-34. Presume he was 23 or so marrying, Timewise, your Julia could be his, YES?

Have you tried this way to connect? Maybe census will link these guys together. Hope so.

Have a goood evening Lois

Dear Harry,

I'm sorry you haven't returned these forms any sooner, but circumstances has hindered Ma was in hospital for two weeks and it just slipped my mind. I'm making a form for Larry as there wasn't one for him. I wish you luck on this, I think its great that you are doing it. must be late 9. weeks.

I hope aunt Bekie and uncle Sherman are enjoying the change in their lives, I think thats great too. Ma is doing fine now, she has ~~angina~~ angina, there's no guarantee that the angina wont come again, or could bring on a heart attack, she just has to take care not to let it happen.

I started this letter a few days ago, and maybe I'll get to finish it this go at it, we've had beautiful weather here for the last few days, I know it can't compare to the nice sunshine you have there, but its still a blessing when it finally comes hahaha.

Here are still waiting to become grandparents, she was due April 8th but she's still hanging in there, she went to the Dr. yesterday and they told her three or four more days. I think the Dr. was a little off on the date, I told her, he or she will come when ready hahaha.

I sure wish you would consider coming up here someday all of you. Diane and her family are sick, with the flu right now, she told me to tell you, and everyone hello and sends her love. Margar and Mickey also.

We worked our garden up this weekend, but its still quite wet, I doubt if will be planting anything here next month sometime, because we are supposed to get rain starting today and it looks like we are going to. Its about 75° now, yesterday it was 75° or more. oh well thats nice weather, hot one day cold the next. Well

Harry I guess I'll end this and get it in the mail, as I've kept you waiting too long already. I couldn't help much ~~as~~ Budd's family as ~~we~~ don't know where Mike is at the moment.
We know they have a child (boy) we don't know what his wife's maiden name is or anything about her.

If you want me to, I'll let you know as soon as possible what Harry's offspring is - but can't do it at the moment. ~~Who~~

Well Harry good luck. Give Aunt Bessie and

Mallette Brothers

In 1810 three Mallette brothers fled from Normandy France to New French America to evade the grasp of Napoleon Bonaparte. They were royalists and the "Little Corporal" first confiscated their property and then reached for their heads. Jean and Marquis finally settled at the head of Cedar Creek near the present day Union Church. The other brother is said to have located at Van Cleave. Jean now anglicized to John married Elizabeth Tillman and from this union came most if not all of the Mallettes in George County. Fletcher Read now owns the old homesite and the grave sites of some of these early Mallettes. The place was bought by his father-in-law, W. D. Horne, in 1909.

All that remains of the John Mallette home now in possession of Fletcher Read.

the annual Jackson County Basketball Tournament last week-end when the Moss Point girls team beat the Pascagoula girls by one point, the Wade boys shellacked the Pascagoula Panthers 34-27, and both the boys and girls Orange Lake Grammar school teams took trophies from Wade and Escatawpa in the finals Saturday night.

The tournament, which started Thursday, February 20, at 1 p. m., continued throughout last day and games were played in the Moss Point gymnasium at every hour on the following Friday and Saturday. Finals were played before a packed audience. Spectators were lined up and down the side of the basketball court, all anxious to see the ultimate in county basketball competition.

Elimination took a systematic and steady turn from the very beginning. In the high school boys classification, Moss Point sent Vancleave out with a 33-28 score and Wade trounced over Ocean Springs 38-18. The Wade boys then eliminated the Moss Point boys with a score of 40-32, sealing up the prospect of playing in the finals. The other boys high finalist team, Pascagoula, first eliminated OLV 37-24, then St. Martin 32-22.

The high school boys finals were the most eagerly awaited and exciting game of Saturday night. The unbeaten Wade team showed up to best advantage, and although the Panthers got the best of them in the first half, they returned in the last half and caught up with the Panthers in final minutes of play. Wade's Kistner rose up six feet to shoot and missed the shot, but his own rebound shot was a powerful score and won the game.

The unbeaten Wade team easily won the girls classification by beating Vancleave 40-20 and OLV 37-23. The Pascagoula girls sent the St. Martin girls out with a 30-24 score, then with a 37-24 score, eliminated the Wade team, which had beaten Ocean Springs 50-24.

Finals Close

It was a close girls game. The Tigerettes seemed to be putting up a winning fight at first, then dropped six points behind the Pantherettes. In the last two minutes of play, when the score stood Pascagoula 23, Moss Point 22, Nell Monk, who was M. P. high scorer with nine points, long-shotted a beauty into the netted circle, and the finish whistle blew. Pascagoula high scorer was Louise Penton, with 11 points.

In the grammar school division, the Orange Lake school had some good basketball players. The boys team played in the finals against a bigger Wade team, and defeated that team 20-13. Orange Lake boys had defeated the Gautier team 41-11 after the Gautier boys had given OLV a 33-22 beating. Escatawpa beat Pascagoula's 21-11, then Orange Lake beat that team 24-20. The other side of the race started when the Vancleave boys eliminated the St. Martin boys, and the Hurley boys. In the semi-finals, Vancleave lost by a 12 point margin to Wade, which had defeated Moss Point 26-3. Orange Lake high scorer was C. Brown, with 8 points, and Escatawpa's high point man was Wallman, with 9 points.

Orange Lake grammar girls won their first place in the tournament thus: OLV defeated Wade, Orange Lake defeated OLV. St. Martin defeated Moss Point, making the semifinals.

Temant Named Temporary Head Of Sport Group

At Mr. Gautier's suggestion, the local group voted to join the State Conservation League and a membership fee of five dollars per member was voted, to include the dollar and a half annual dues in the league. It was also voted to allow members to contribute in excess of five dollars to the treasury, if they so desired.

About 50 county sportsmen were present at the meeting.

Power Franchise Debated By Local Group, Company

Alleged advantages and disadvantages of a proposed new 25-year franchise for the Mississippi Power Company in Pascagoula were debated last Friday at a public hearing in the Pascagoula city hall by representatives of the company and by a group of citizens who objected to the new franchise.

The company now sells power to local consumers under a franchise until October 6, 1950. The company has asked the city council to abrogate the old franchise and to sign a new one covering operations for the next 25 years. If the city council should grant the new franchise, this action would have to be ratified or rejected by the qualified electorate of Pascagoula.

One feature of the new franchise not contained in the old one is the provision that the company will pay the city two percent of its gross sales. It is estimated that if sales were maintained at the present rate of about $500,000 a year the two percent revenue to the city would amount to $10,000.

"Sales Tax"

A citizen's group headed by E. L. Labbous and represented by Attorney Karl Wiesenberger filed a formal protest at the hearing Friday charging that the company should cut its rates by two percent for all consumers rather than pay two percent into the general fund. The two percent payment into the general fund would amount to a discriminatory sales tax on consumers. The money would be used for general purposes like road repair and not for services of direct benefit to the power consumers who make up the company's revenues, the petitioners said.

The petition also charged that changes and omissions in the language of the old franchise, as carried over into the proposed new franchise, might have the effect of permitting the company to set its own rates without reference to city rate ordinances; that it might permit the company to charge users for electric meters, instead of providing them without charge, as at present is required; and that by omission of the word "promptly" the company would be permitted to "take its own time" about repairing streets and sidewalks which might be damaged in erecting and maintaining power poles and lines.

The petition charged that the principle of all public utility franchises is to secure maximum benefits for the consumers rather than to raise money for the municipal corporation for general purposes. But under the proposed new contract, the group charged, "the consumers will receive no new benefits, but instead will lose some benefits they have under the franchise now in effect." Other signers of this petition in addition to Mr. Labbous were H. L. Hatten, H. M. Bowman, John Vlahos and G. E. Briggs.

The company was represented by The Hearing by Attorneys James S. Eaton, John T. Doherty and R. M. Shearer, of Gulfport, and by J. E. Stone, manager of the Pascagoula office.

Mr. Eaton, reading the company's formal reply, made general denial that the new franchise

Burglars Enter El Dorado Cafe, Get Cash, Whiskey

The El Dorado Cafe was entered by burglars who forced open the back door and escaped with $25 or $30 in cash and several hundred dollars worth of supplies according to Pascagoula police.

Frank Vantage told police that the burglars took more than $50 worth of cigarettes, twenty-five pounds of sugar, and about $240 worth of whiskey.

Dick's Place on Canty Street was entered the same night by forcing the door and three cartons of cigarettes and seven quarts of whiskey stolen, investigating officers report.

Spastic Paralysis Victims Concern Of New Group

Dr. Andrew Hedweg, director of the Harrison and Jackson Counties health departments, was appointed temporary chairman of a district organization meeting of the "Mississippi Association for the Aid of Spastic Children" held at the Harrison county health department in Gulfport Thursday night.

Dr. Hedweg will serve until a permanent chairman is elected by the Gulfport district which includes Harrison, Hancock, Jackson and Stone counties.

D. D. Galey, representative of the Jackson district was in charge and he outlined the aims and purpose of the association as the establishment of a hospital-school for the treatment and education of children afflicted with spastic paralysis and other forms of cerebral palsy. He declared that there are approximately 2,000 cases of spastic paralysis in Mississippi.

This compares about equally with the number of polio cases, he said. "However, while the treatment of polio is well advanced there are at present no facilities in the state for the treatment of spastic paralysis cases."

In the four counties in this district there are 40 white cases listed, while a number of cases remain unreported.

Patriotic Program Offers Colorful Pageantry

The May Festival, one of the largest and most colorful exhibitions of school work the Pascagoula Schools have ever put on, took place Friday night, May 11, at eight o'clock.

Clad in white and wearing patriotic paper caps, the elementary school pupils from the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades of all schools marched to the grand stands while the high school band played the processional, "On the Grand Concourse," and "The Booster." The high school girls' chorus and representatives of the speech department followed. Mr. F. R. Wells acted as director of the program.

Each school presented its vocal numbers to an appreciative audience, but the most impressive numbers on the program were those in which all the students from all schools sang in unison. The young voices ringing out patriotically on the night air made an inspiring effect. The dramatic reading, concerned with a Russian scene, and the declamation on the subject "Dunkirk"—readings concerned with two of the great allies of the United States in the present war—fitted admirably into the patriotic theme of the festival.

The physical education department of the high school was represented by a parade of boys and girls carrying tennis rackets, bows and arrows, or other equipment used in the various activities that are a part of the department's work.

Rain threatened to mar the evening, but fortunately waited to pour down until after all the young participants were at home and in bed.

Students who took part in the musical program were D'Vonne Cudabac, Jeanne Whatley, Bonnie Sue Byrd, Mary Theresa Guillotte, Bonnie Chapman, Sarah Shemper, Merley Jones, Jr., Georgia Lee Souther, Billie Jean Williams, Gloria McKenzie, Rita Joyce Krebs, Norma Iverson, Emily Green, and the Girls' Chorus. ## GRADUATING CLASS OF 1945 IS LARGEST IN HISTORY OF SCHOOL

The seniors of the 1945 class at P.H.S. were graduated May 28 as the largest class ever to leave the school. The fifty-eight graduates conducted the exercises which were different from any other ever held in Pascagoula High in that the emphasis usually placed on class night was shifted to graduation. The students made the graduation speeches that formerly were given by outsiders.

The class made its processional march while the school orchestra played "The Triumphal March" from "Aida" by Verdi. After the class had taken their seats the Reverend J. L. Brantley of the Watts Memorial Baptist Church delivered the invocation.

V-E Day Observed By Students Of P. H. S.

V-E Day was observed at Pascagoula High School by a religious service which was attended by both the senior and the junior high school students.

Sixty pupils of the Central Elementary School under the direction of Miss Kathryn Maxwell sang "My United States" and "I Hear America Singing."

Dr. J. C. Crane delivered the address. He read Psalm 46, the passage in the Bible which was read at the funeral of the late President Roosevelt, and Psalm 136. He then spoke of the fact that this day was one of the happiest in the history of the nation but said that it was not a day to be celebrated by rowdy hilarity. Rather it was a day in which to give thanks for the many things which have blessed us and in which to pray for the leaders of all nations that they may be able to carry on the war in the Pacific to a quick conclusion and that they may be able to secure the peace of the world for all time. Dr. Crane concluded his remarks with the quoting of Rudyard Kipling's "Recessional."

The audience, composed of about twelve hundred students and teachers, then sang "God Bless America" and were dismissed by Olen Heflin, president of the senior class, who presided over the meeting and introduced the speaker.

Students Of Senior And Junior Class Hold Forum

Nine students, selected from the junior and senior classes, held a forum on May 2 at the regular luncheon of the Pascagoula Rotary Club. The students discussed the problems of the youth of Pascagoula after the war is over.

The forum was interesting and entertaining to the Rotary members because the opinions expressed were clear and frank. The discussion reached its peak when the students came to the question, "Is juvenile delinquency the result of the parents' being too strict or of their being too lenient?" Henry Torjusen brought in a good thought when he said, "If your parents say you may not do something, you will do that thing or break your neck trying. But if a parent says you may do this thing but that he

Ruth May, valedictorian of the class and mistress of ceremonies spoke on "The Light of the World." Henry Torjusen, salutatorian, made a talk on the subject, "The Guiding Light," in which he stressed the educational development of each individual and compared a Nazi youth with an American one.

The senior high chorus sang "America the Beautiful"; then Oliver Ladnier talked on the topic, "What Hath God Wrought?"

Olen Heflin, president of the class, delivered a speech entitled "Speak the Speech I Pray You."

After Olen's talk, Harold Oliver discussed the American Constitution. His speech was "A Man Is A Man for A' That."

The chorus sang "Onward Ye Peoples" (Finlandia) by Sibelius.

Under the next heading, "Peace on Earth," Genevieve Moore spoke on "A Rendezvous With Destiny." Genevieve quoted these noble words:

"Here dead be we because we did not choose
To live and shame the land from which we sprung.
Life, to be sure, is nothing much to lose;
But young men think it is; and we were young."

The chorus then sang "The Recessional" as arranged by Dekoven.

Mr. Gill, principal, presented the class to Mr. Wells, superintendent. Mr. Wells in turn presented the diplomas to the class.

Barbara Renfro delivered the acceptance speech, "The Graduate's Creed."

Mr. Wells presented the different awards for scholarship. The Reverend Mr. Brantley said the benediction.

The exercises closed with the audience and graduates singing to the accompaniment of the orchestra, "The Star-Spangled Banner."

Seniors Of '45 Give Plaque To School

A bronze plaque bearing the names of all P.H.S. boys and girls who made the supreme sacrifice in the service of their country will be the gift of the seniors of '45 to the school.

The class met in the little theatre to discuss the matter. Since bronze is unavailable at this time, the class was unable to buy the gift now but will leave the funds for a post-war purchase of the plaque.

Four boys whose names will appear in gold on the plaque are: Joseph Shephard, Douglas Hague, Stova Firth, and Alton Watts. If God wills, others will be added to this list; the class prays that only the four will be there.

Religious Emphasis Week Observed At P. S. S.

The Annual Religious Emphasis Week was observed during the week of April 30-May 4 under the sponsorship of the Pascagoula Association of Pastors. The entire student body were participants in these programs.

Smith spends a lifetime enjoying Coast life

Ninety-eight years young, Blanche Seale Smith is a serious fan of the Sea Wolves hockey team. Recently, she was at the Coliseum to welcome part of the team and get their autographs.

She and her son, O.M. "Jac" Smith, already have their season tickets. She was asked to serve as their mascot, as she had for the Sharks and Gamblers basketball teams, but had to decline this time. She was recommended by a good family friend, Billy Lyons of the Mississippi Athletic Commission.

She has always loved sports, especially basketball, shooting goals through a hoop nailed to the barn door and playing games on a dirt court. At one game, a blind horse that had a bell on its neck stumbled into the basketball game but didn't halt the game.

They played softball in cow pastures and she pitched. She was a tomboy and always loved sports, playing basketball when she was only 10 years old. In 1917, she helped organized the D'Iberville High School girls basketball team.

Her love for sports is why she wants everyone to support the Sea Wolves.

A little background

Blanche was one of twins born in Gloster (Amite County) April 10, 1898. They were brought to the Seashore Campground (now the Seashore Methodist Assembly) in Biloxi when they were only 5 weeks old.

Her parents were Thomas Elisha and Harriet Brown Seale.

She had two brothers and four sisters including her twin. She is the only survivor.

Her father's families were pioneers in Mississippi, coming here from North Carolina after the American Revolution. Her ancestors came to Virginia in 1633 with the arrival of the French Huguenot the grounds and not many people were let inside.

She met George Ohr when he became a friend of her mother's and visited her. He took Blanche for rides on his motorcycle on the packed sand of the beach, riding and all the way into Biloxi. He also took her out in his rowboat.

He needed blue clay or mud for his pottery and they found some at the depot behind the campground. He dug down about two feet and took it out in a wheelbarrow.

Days at the beach

Her mother taught everyone to swim. The water on the beach was so clear then that you could see the bottom. Between them and the beach were street car tracks.

Streets or roads were covered with shells, but they never saw a car until 1914.

During the summer, they were taught to sew, read the Bible, had spelling bees and played Old Maid, Rook and Flinch, but never anything with dice. They had candy pulls, popcorn and made potato pones.

The campground was used for a religious site for meditation, and some 5,000 people would come from Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana. The houses were built without wooden floors.

The tabernacle was built in the square (where Leggett Memorial UMC is now). No wheeled vehicles were allowed on the square.

and King Charles II. They had been publishers for the Royal families for 100 years.

On the maternal side, Blanche's ancestors include Kenneth McAlpine, first King of Scotland; Cerdic, first King of Wessex; Alfred the Great; William the Conqueror; and Rollo, first Duke of Normandy.

Her family moved all over the state while her father helped build sawmills at Lyman, Lumberton, Logtown, Meehan, Golden, Crosby and Tishomingo County.

Her mother was educated in New Orleans where her family was in the mercantile business and owned sugar cane plantations.

A talented musician

Blanche was a talented musician who played in the World Exhibition in New Orleans. She saw George Ohr there when he was exhibiting his pottery.

E.P. Mackie of New Orleans, her cousin and an active member in the Carondelet Street Methodist Church, chose the site of the campground. Her great uncle, Ed Mottlee, built the first cottage on the grounds.

Her Auntie Swift had a big cottage that Blanche's family visited every summer. Her aunt often fed as many as 70 preachers at the campgrounds.

In 1904, Blanche rode the first ferris wheel that came to Mississippi.

When Barnum and Bailey Circus visited here two years ago, she wrote and asked if they were bringing the ferris wheel, explaining that she had ridden it in 1904. They weren't, but sent her a ticket to the circus.

When the ferris wheel did arrive, the operator let her ride 25 times. She was back the next year to ride again.

It was 1910 when she sat on a rooftop in Meehan Junction (west of Meridian) and viewed Haley's Comet.)

Summer at the campground

While spending summers at the campground, she and other children enjoyed the beach, swimming and sailing. There was a barbed wire fence around brought cream cheese and meat and buttermilk. George Lanas was from the meat market and went to every house to deliver meat.

Mr. Entringer was the bread man and later Mr. Baylis from the Electric Maid Bakery. They brought bread, cakes and rolls. Mr. Agregard sold fish, crabs, oysters, mussels, shrimp and had seven sons who helped him.

Deliveries were made with a horse and wagon.

Marriage and family

She married O.M. (Marvin) Smith from Leeska, Ala., in 1916, a day before turning 18. A daughter, Mattie Elizabeth, was born in Garyville, La., two years later.

That same year, she saw a mare horse being milked for the first time.

A son, O.M. "Jac" Smith, was born in Golden Jan. 3, 1925.

Her husband worked with the sawmills also. Altogether, she lived in 27 different sawmill towns in Mississippi and Louisiana. She says that she always enjoyed moving because they could build a new Methodist church in every town.

She washed clothes in creeks and used a "batting stick" to beat the clothes on rocks to loosen the dirt. Then she hung the clothes to dry on bushes.

Medicine was made from herbal plants such as the dandelion, pepper grass, rabbit tobacco, crossvine, poke salad and gooseberries.

When she and her husband came to the Coast to live, he was working on the bridge across the Back Bay of Biloxi. They returned to Golden until the Great Depression closed the sawmills. They came back to the Coast, and her husband worked for a brother-in-law who owned property in D'Iberville and planted all the land with pecan trees. They also built First Methodist Church in D'Iberville.

Religious family

It was certain that Blanche should be raised in a religious family. Her mother taught music for 58 years and her father was a singing teacher. Her great

She remembers when Le-moyne Boulevard was U.S. 90. She remembers when the Buena Vista and Edgewater Hotels and the First Baptist Church of Biloxi were built.

Work, school, church, fun

Jac started school when he was only 4, and they let school out after two weeks to pick cotton. She made him a small sack. The street where their home is located was a swamp when he was a child.

Blanche won a dancing contest in Lofter Hall in 1914, which is across the street from their home. It is now a nursing home.

For the first school, her father cut down pine trees and made little stools for the children. Her mother played a vintage piano and taught the children the alphabet.

L.N. Dantzler, at the paper mill in Moss Point, told some of the men who wanted to build a church that if they would sail a schooner to Moss Point, he would give them enough lumber to build a church. They docked with the load where the I-110 bridge comes into U.S. 90. That church was built on Racetrack Road.

Getting out the vote

Blanche has been assisting Colonel Harper, First Methodist's historian, with records about her family.

Her twin sister worked as a milliner in Gulfport in 1916 and 1917. She died in 1991.

Blanche nursed with doctors and helped deliver hundreds of babies. She also nursed a patient with leprosy until the patient died. She worked in a laundry during the Depression in Biloxi.

She was presented an award by the Seabees in August 1995 because of her voting record. She and Jac honor the Seabees with an annual picnic. She has never missed voting since she began at age 22 in Bogalusa after Women's Suffrage.

She is still diligent in getting people out to vote. In the recent bond issue for the Jackson County schools, she called 152 peo-

About Jac

Meanwhile, son Jac supports her in all her efforts and drives her wherever she needs to go. They are the only immediate family left. He served in the Merchant Marines for years and was taken prisoner and carried to Russia when he was only 18.

It was a good knowledge of geography that saved his life. He escaped and walked 900 miles across Finland, Sweden and Norway. It took him three months.

He says that he would shut his eyes and to see a world map and remember where the countries were when the sun went up and head the right way.

Tom Simmons wrote a book about the escape titled "The Escape from Archangel." It is in Coast libraries.

Still community-minded

Blanche is a charter member of the Community Concert and Gulf Coast Association for Mental Health (now the Harrison County Association for Mental Health). The Mental Health Association was organized in the 1960s and meetings were sometimes held in her living room.

She remembers Opal Smith and others who spearheaded the effort. She has served as chaplain for the Colonel Richard Pace Chapter, Colonel Dames XVIII Century.

Blanche Seale Smith is an exceptional woman. She has seen many changes during her lifetime and has accepted them and made them her friend. Now she welcomes a hockey team to the Coast.

She needs your help.

Said Blanche: "With your support, we can make the Sea Wolves a howling success."

She would like to hear from you.

Retirement age is steadily on the rise

KNIGHT-RIDDER NEWS SERVICE

Q: I heard the retirement age is going up. I was born in 1965, at what age will I be able to retire and receive full Social Security retirement benefits?

A: To be eligible for full retirement benefits you will need to be age 67 since you were born in 1965. The increase begins with people born in 1938 and later. The increase will take place gradually each year until people born in 1960 and later receive the full two years increase. Early retirement will still be available at age 62, but the reduction for early retirement will increase from 20 percent to 30 percent.

A: Social Security recommends that people check their Social Security earnings at least once every three years. After that it becomes more difficult to trace the earnings. A "Personal Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statement" is available upon request. It shows the earnings reported to your record and also the benefits payable on those earnings. Checking your record is easy to do. Just call Social Security at (800) 772-1213 and ask for a "Personal Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statement."

This story waited 46 years to be told

By DeAnna M. Causey
SREPA Communications Specialist

St. Martin Singing River Electric member O.M. "Jac" Smith Jr. has led a very extraordinary life.

His lifelong experiences are extensive, and coupled with his innate southern charm and story-telling abilities, he is anything but ordinary.

One of Jac Smith's experiences is so harrowing that it has taken him 46 years to tell the story.

As a young school boy growing up in Biloxi, Smith dreamed of seeing the world. In high school during the early 1940s he surrounded himself with British crew members stationed at the old Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) barracks in Magnolia Park — now the Gulf Coast National Seashore — to enjoy friends of a different culture.

"At the time Ingalls was building four 'baby' aircraft carriers for England and they had sailors stationed in our area," Smith said. "They taught me about England, and I took them snipe hunting in Fountainebleau!"

In 1942, when Smith turned 18 years old, he left Biloxi and volunteered to join the Merchant Marines and serve in World War II, knowing the dangers that lay ahead.

After serving two years as a merchant seaman, Smith volunteered to be a crew member on the S.S. Cedar Creek, a T-2 tanker lend-leased to the Soviet Union, a U.S. ally.

"Three of us volunteered to train the Russian crew on the voyage to Murmansk because they (Russians) were not familiar with that type ship nor the turbo electric engine room mechanism," Smith said.

Once the ship made it to the U.S.S.R., instead of docking at the appointed harbor, the ship docked at Seversdrinsk, the deep-water harbor for Archangel.

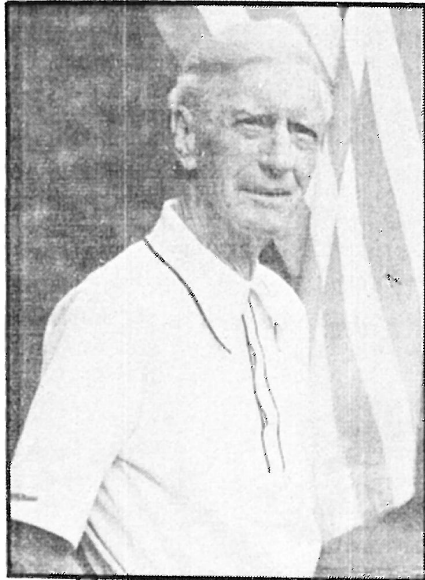

"Once we docked, my two companions and I were paid in rubles, which are worthless outside Russia. Then we were abandoned in the Soviet Union," Smith said.

As the three Americans began to work on finding a way out of Russia, their hopes of leaving died the night they missed a midnight curfew by 20 minutes.

During the war the U.S.S.R. was under a police state. The police (now the KGB) arrested, condemned and sent all three Americans to a Soviet labor camp, without a trial.

"People here have a real hard time comprehending a situation like that because that type of situation isn't possible in the U.S.," Smith said.

After five to six weeks of imprisonment, Smith realized no one from the United States would know where he was, or that he was in a labor camp. He lost all hope of rescue.

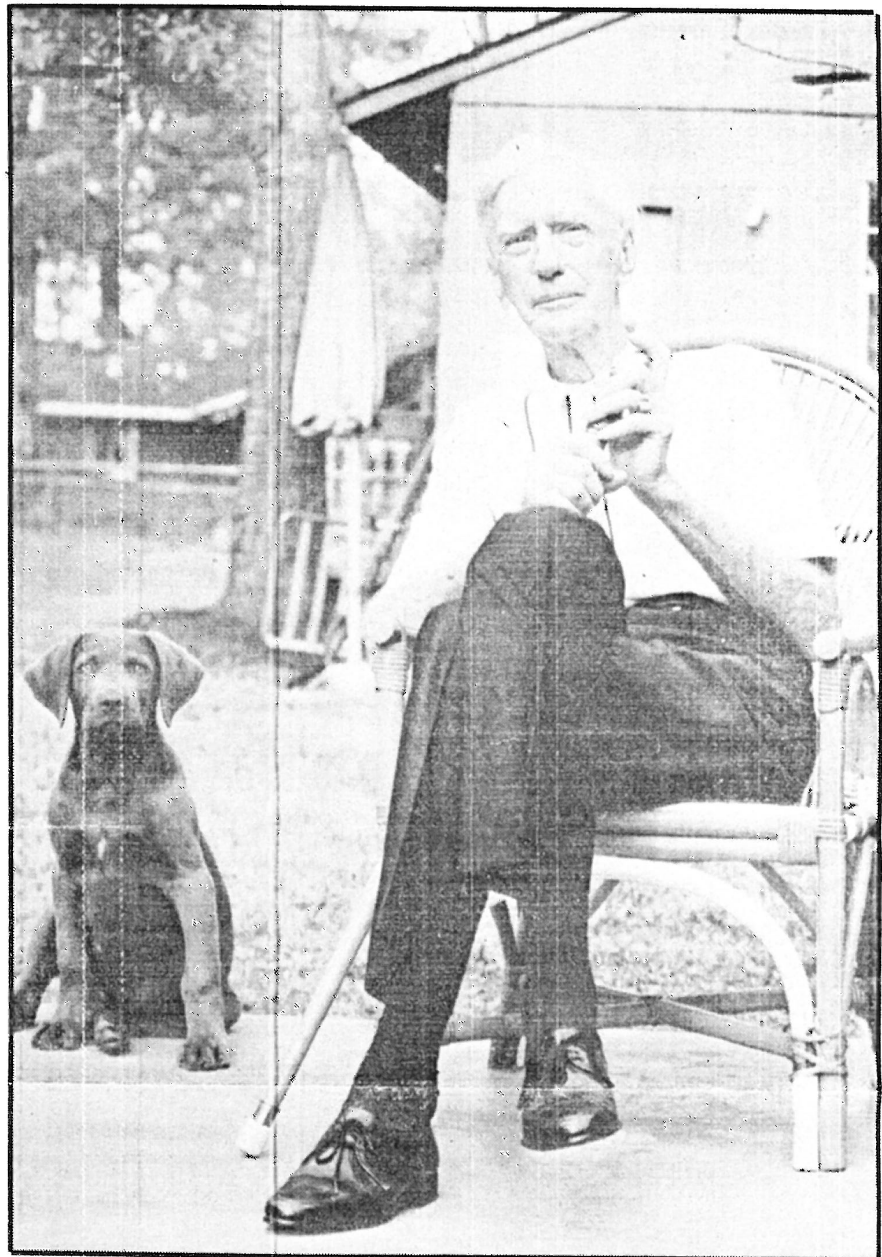

With the realization that he would die in that labor camp, he decided to try escape.

"I knew I couldn't survive in that place," Smith said. "I decided that if I was going to die, I wanted to do it my way."

His way was across 900 miles of frozen tundra and snow-congested forest. Smith walked out of an unguarded gate and started towards an unknown end. When he had pushed his body to walk as far as it could in the arctic temperatures, he finally gave up the struggle.

"I was lying there and I began to hear voices. I peeked open my eyes and saw reindeer. I was so exhausted I began to think the reindeer were talking to me," Smith said.

Definitely the reindeer were not talking to Smith. The Laplanders, Mongolian reindeer-herding nomads, found Smith and began to help him across Nazi-infested territory to the Norwegian Resistance. Once Smith caught up with the Norwegian resistance fighters they were able to secretly transport Smith to Aberdeen, Scotland.

After traveling about 900 miles across four countries, Smith had finally begun to think the threat of danger was subsiding.

However, when he arrived in Scotland without any papers he attracted the British Intelligence Board of Inquiry's attention.

"When I arrived (in Scotland) I was taken to the Board of Inquiry to explain who I was, where I came from and how I happened to be escaping from Russia, our ally. For all the Board of Inquiry knew I could've been a spy.

"During the time the Board was trying to ascertain whether or not I was telling the truth about being from Biloxi, an officer asked me if I knew the name of a shipyard in the area," Smith said.

Naturally Smith said yes and described Ingalls, his British sailor friends and the CCC barracks in detail.

"As luck would have it, the officer had been to Ingalls to inspect the aircraft carriers being built for England, and he realized I was telling the truth.

"The existence of Ingalls Shipyard probably saved me from being interned as a spy" Smith said.

Jac Smith finally did make it home to south Mississippi — 30 years later when he retired from the Merchant Marines.

"I enjoyed the adventure," Smith said. "Where else can you work and see the world at the same time, and enjoy it?"

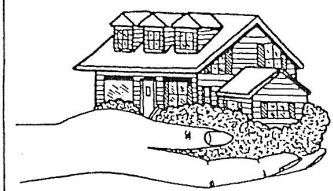

Now that Smith makes St. Martin his home, are his travels and adventures over?

"No," Smith said. "All I have to do is sit in my swing and close my eyes. I can be anywhere I want to be: Indonesia, Africa, Hawaii, England..." And the list goes on.

Editor's Note: For anyone interested in reading more on the Merchant Marine in the North Atlantic during WWII and about Jac Smith's captivity and escape from a Soviet labor camp, the University Press of Mississippi published Thomas E. Simmons' book, "Escape from Archangel: An American Merchant Seaman at War," in November. For more information about the book, dial 601-982-6246.

Longtime Springs resident dies; fund started for park memorial

OCEAN SPRINGS — Oldtimer Earl D. "Pop" Smith had many friends, but no family or resources, when he died at his small home on Calhoun Street on Oct. 5.

Therefore, Smith was buried in a county-owned plot reserved for "paupers," on Friday in MachPelah Cemetery in Pascagoula.

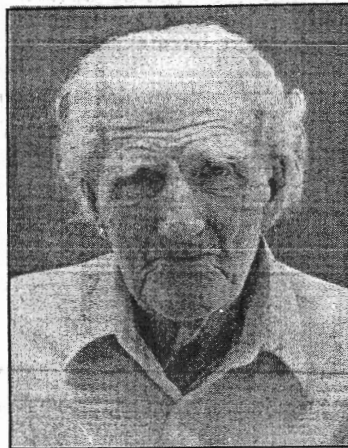

His many friends at Ocean Springs Senior Citizen Center were unable to attend the graveside service due to the distance, but director Thelma Hendrickson is spearheading a memorial fund for Smith.

The senior citizens want to place a piece of equipment at Little Children's Park, near his home, in Smith's memory. Plans are being made with the cooperation of Recreation Director Leigh Brown.

"Pop loved to sit there (the park) and watch those kids," Mrs. Hendrickson said. "He was a gentle person and loved children and people."

Smith, a native of Manchester, England, had lived here off and on since the late 1940s, according to statements he made to The Mississippi Press a few months ago. He dealt in jewelry, sold shoes and used items and ran a security guard service.

His recollections on his approaching 100th birthday were featured in the newspaper on

Earl D. 'Pop' Smith

Sept. 15. After his death, however, records showed that he was 96.

Smith, who had been in ill health in recent years, had mentioned that he would be 100 years old in February. "We would see him every day and we saw how he was going down," Mrs. Hendrickson said. "We decided to give his 100th birthday ahead of time and he was so thrilled. I'm glad that he had a happy birthday."

Donations to the fund may be made at the Senior Citizens Center, 514 Washington Ave., Ocean Springs, either by mail, or in person during regular hours, 8:30 a.m. until 2 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Mrs. Hendrickson says she hopes those who knew Smith will be generous as he was with others.

"I love everybody and help everybody I can. I never let anybody go hungry in life. That's a good pastime. That's my favorite pastime," Smith told The Mississippi Press before his death.
